A Guide to After-Death Arrangements
Foreword

There is an appointed time for everything, including birth and death. When a family member or friend passes away, however much agony and grief we may have, we need to make the necessary after-death arrangements after all. This booklet provides concise information on matters such as death registration, disposal of bodies and ashes, and the holding of funerals. We hope the bereaved and relevant service agencies will find it useful in handling funeral matters.

At present over 90 percent of the bodies of the deceased are cremated each year. To optimise the use of resources, the Food and Environmental Hygiene Department has relaxed the arrangement for interring additional cremated ashes in a public niche. If a deceased is a close relative or has a close relationship with a person with ashes already interred, his or her ashes can be interred together in the same niche of the first deceased. The relaxation enables our loved ones to stay together after death and makes paying respect to them more convenient.

In recent years more and more people have chosen to scatter the cremated ashes of their loved ones in the peaceful and tranquil Gardens of Remembrance or at the boundless sea, enabling them to return to nature. Of all the death cases each year, over 10 percent follows the green burial path, and the trend is on the rise. I hope green burial will become the mainstream arrangement for handling cremated ashes. I also encourage you to express early your wishes for the after-death arrangements to your loved ones for your own peace of mind and to make life easier for them. By making use of the Internet Memorial Service (memorial.gov.hk), we can pay homage to our lost loved ones anytime and anywhere and keep alive our thoughts and memories forever.

B. Registration of a Death

Death registration procedures vary according to the nature of death:
(i) a death from natural cause (handled under normal procedures);
(ii) a death from natural cause requiring urgent burial; or
(iii) a death from unnatural cause.

Details of the registration procedures are as follows:

(i) A death from natural cause (handled under normal procedures)

For a death from natural cause where a registered medical practitioner had made the final diagnosis and determined the cause of death, the medical practitioner will issue the following documents for the deceased:

- “Medical Certificate of the Cause of Death” [Form 18]; and
- “Medical Certificate (Cremation)” [Form 2] (applicable to cremation only).

For registration of deaths referred by the Coroner, or registration of deaths from natural causes on Sundays and public holidays, please visit the Births and Deaths General Register Office of Immigration Department. Details are as follows:

Births and Deaths General Register Office of Immigration Department
3/F, Low Block, Queensway Government Offices, 66 Queensway, Hong Kong
Tel: 2867 2784

Office Hours
Monday to Friday: 8:45 a.m. – 4:45 p.m.
Saturday: 9:00 a.m. – 11:30 a.m.
Sunday and public holiday: 10:00 a.m. – 12:30 p.m.

Please refer to Appendix I for contact information of relevant government departments and the services provided by them.
Relatives of the deceased are required to bring along the originals of the following documents and register the death within 24 hours at the Joint Office:
- identity card of the applicant;
- identity card of the deceased;
- “Medical Certificate of the Cause of Death” [Form 18]; and
- “Medical Certificate (Cremation)” [Form 2] (applicable to cremation only).

Upon completion of the above death registration procedure, which normally takes 30 minutes, the applicant will be issued with:
- “Certificate of Registration of Death” [Form 12] (commonly known as “going-out pass”); and
- “Certificate of Registration of Death” [Form 10] (commonly known as “burial permit”) (applicable to burial only).

With the above documents in hand, relatives can apply for cremation at the Joint Office or apply for burial at the respective cemetery office (see Item 1C/1D).

(ii) A death from natural cause requiring urgent burial

If urgent removal or burial of the dead body is necessary for religious or other reasons outside the opening hours of the Joint Office or the Births and Deaths General Register Office, the applicant can apply for the following document from the nearest police station to facilitate the urgent burial:
- “Permit for Removal and Burial of Dead Body” [Form 8].

In such case, the applicant is still required to register the death at the Deaths Registry of Immigration Department in the Joint Office after the burial. The applicant will be issued with a “Certificate of Registration of Death” [Form 12] after registration.

(iii) A death from unnatural cause (circumstances such as the deceased was not attended by a registered medical practitioner before death or death resulted from accident, poison or violence, etc.)

Such a case should be reported immediately to the Police, who will in turn report it to the Coroner and conduct an investigation.

The Police will submit a report to the Coroner, who will decide if an autopsy, investigation or inquest is necessary to determine the cause of death.

Depending on circumstances, the Coroner may (before the cause of death is determined) order the body be buried or cremated and issue the following document:
- “Certificate of Order Authorizing Burial/Cremation of Body” [Form 11] (commonly known as “burial order” or “cremation order”).

Then the relatives can apply for cremation at the Joint Office or apply for burial at the respective cemetery office (see Item 1C/1D).

When the Coroner has determined the cause of death (which usually takes 1 to 6 months), the Registrar of Deaths will register the death and notify the relatives in writing. Then the relatives should collect the following document at the Births and Deaths General Register Office of Immigration Department:
- “Certificate of Registration of Death” [Form 12].

C. Application for Cremation

(i) Application for “Cremation Permit”

Upon issue of the “Certificate of Registration of Death” [Form 12] (commonly known as “going-out pass”) by the Joint Office, the applicant may also apply for the “Cremation Permit” [Form 3] at the same office.

Cremation can be arranged without the “Cremation Permit” [Form 3] if the “Certificate of Order Authorizing Cremation of Body” [Form 11] (commonly known as “cremation order”) has been issued by the Coroner.

(ii) Booking of Cremation Session

In accordance with the performance pledge, Food and Environmental Hygiene Department will provide an unallocated cremation session within the next 15 days from the day of application. When fixing the date of cremation, the applicant must ensure that the time for funeral procession ties in with the booked cremation session. The Food and Environmental Hygiene Department operates a chit system to facilitate the booking of cremation sessions at the counter.

A member of the public may choose to:
(a) self-book the cremation session; or
(b) authorise a licensed undertaker or another person to book the cremation session on his/her behalf.
Details are as follows:

(a) Self-booking of cremation session

- The form “Application for Private Cremation” [FEHB 135] should be completed. The particulars of the hired licensed undertaker must be provided in the application form, which must also be stamped with the undertaker’s chop recognised by Food and Environmental Hygiene Department.

- The applicant must bring along the following documents to the Joint Office:
  - the duly completed “Application for Private Cremation” [FEHB 135]; and
  - the original “Cremation Permit” [Form 3]; or
  - the original “Certificate of Order Authorizing Cremation of Body” [Form 11].

- The applicant may choose to book the cremation session over the counter of the Food and Environmental Hygiene Department at the Joint Office or through online booking and pay the required fee (see Appendix II).

- For booking of cremation session at the counter, payment of the required fee can be made by cash, cheque or Electronic Payment Service (EPS).

- For booking of cremation session online, the applicant will be given a token which will be used to book online through the Food and Environmental Hygiene Department website (http://www.fehd.gov.hk/english/cc/booking_online.html). Immediately after a cremation session is secured, payment of the required fee by credit card or by Payment by Phone Service (PPS) will have to be made online. The applicant may also opt for prepayment of cremation fee at time of issue of token.

(b) Booking of cremation session by authorised licensed undertaker or appointed person

- The applicant may choose to authorise a licensed undertaker to book a cremation session and later collect the cremated ashes of the deceased on his/her behalf.

- If a licensed undertaker is authorised to book a cremation session, the applicant still has to complete the “Application for Private Cremation” [FEHB 135]. The particulars of the hired licensed undertaker must be provided in the application form, which must also be stamped with the undertaker’s chop recognised by Food and Environmental Hygiene Department.

- The applicant should go to the Cremation Booking Office of Food and Environmental Hygiene Department in the Joint Office and sign the authorisation part (Section F of the application form) in front of the counter staff.

- If the relative does not wish to go to the Joint Office in person for the authorisation procedure, he/she may appoint another person to wholly handle the application for cremation on his/her behalf by completing the “Declaration of Relationship with the Deceased” [FEHB 135A]. The appointed applicant may then submit the duly completed “Application for Private Cremation” [FEHB 135] together with the “Declaration of Relationship with the Deceased” [FEHB 135A] to the Cremation Booking Office of Food and Environmental Hygiene Department in the Joint Office.

Food and Environmental Hygiene Department will also issue the “Permit to Take Away Cremated Ashes” [FEHB 153] to the person collecting the ashes at the time of collection.

D Application for Burial

(i) Public Cemeteries

- According to the prevailing requirements, the remains must be exhumed six years after burial in a public cemetery.
- Coffin burial spaces are available for application at the following public cemeteries managed by Food and Environmental Hygiene Department:
  - Wo Hop Shek Cemetery
  - Cheung Chau Cemetery*
  - Tai O Cemetery*
  - Lai Chi Yuen Cemetery at Mui Wo*

  (* Applications for coffin burial at the cemeteries at Cheung Chau, Tai O or Lai Chi Yuen at Mui Wo must be supported by documents issued by the relevant rural committee certifying that the deceased was an indigenous villager of the Islands District or a bona fide local resident or their minor children.)

- The applicant or the hired licensed undertaker may contact the office of the cemetery where the deceased is to be buried to book the date of burial. On the day of burial, the applicant must bring along the following documents to the cemetery office concerned for processing:
  - a completed “Application for Burial at Public Cemetery” [FEHB 144] (the particulars of the hired licensed undertaker must be provided in the form, which must also be stamped with the undertaker’s chop recognised by Food and Environmental Hygiene Department);
  - the original “Certificate of Registration of Death” [Form 12]; and
  - the original “Certificate of Registration of Death” [Form 10]; or
  - the original “Certificate of Order Authorizing Burial of Body” [Form 11].
After checking the documents, Food and Environmental Hygiene Department will allocate a coffin grave space to the eligible applicant on the date of application.

After the burial, Food and Environmental Hygiene Department will collect the fee required (see Appendix II) from the licensed undertaker hired by the applicant.

Relatives of the deceased or the authorized undertaker may make arrangements for erection of a tombstone in a public cemetery by a mason registered with Food and Environmental Hygiene Department (the list of registered masons is available at the department webpage: http://www.fehd.gov.hk/english/cc/lmp.pdf). Charges usually vary according to the quality of the stone and the inscription required. The relatives may make the arrangements with the mason direct.

The applicant should submit an application to the cemetery office concerned in advance if the deceased's name inscribed on the tombstone is different from the one registered with Food and Environmental Hygiene Department. Besides, the applicant should be present on the day the tombstone is erected to ensure that the tombstone is placed at the grave where the coffin is interred.

Arrangements for a Funeral

The relatives may refer to the following information when arranging a funeral:

A. Licensed Undertakers (“Coffin Shops”)

- The legislation provides that a valid Undertaker’s Licence must be obtained from Food and Environmental Hygiene Department for the trade or business operated by a person who undertakes all or any duties connected with the cremation or burial of human cadavers.

- Currently there are more than 120 licensed undertakers in Hong Kong. The list of the undertakers is available at the webpage of Food and Environmental Hygiene Department: http://www.fehd.gov.hk/english/cc/lu.pdf.

- Currently there are 7 licensed funeral parlours in Hong Kong which are also holding the licence for undertaker.

- Apart from the 7 undertakers which are also holding the licence for funeral parlour, the other licensed undertakers do not have such facilities as mortuaries and service halls. Their services mainly include the transportation of bodies, arrangement of funerals and booking of funeral parlours.

- In general, staff of licensed undertakers may assist in handling cremation or burial matters, such as:
  - application for the “Certificate of Registration of Death” [Form 12] (commonly known as “going-out pass”);
  - application for the “Certificate of Registration of Death” [Form 10] (commonly known as “burial permit”);
  - application for the “Cremation Permit” [Form 3];
  - booking of cremation session or burial location; and
  - renting of service hall and mortuary facilities.

B. Holding the Funeral in Funeral Parlours

- The present 7 licensed funeral parlours in Hong Kong have service halls and mortuary facilities for storage and handling human remains. Two of them are operated by non-profit-making organisations.

- For renting of service hall and mortuary facilities in a funeral parlour, the relatives may engage a licensed undertaker for the arrangements or make enquiries direct to the funeral parlours.

C. Holding the Funeral in Religious Venues

- Should the funerals of religious believers are to be held in religious venues, please contact the religious group concerned directly for details, or engage a licensed undertaker to make the arrangements.

D. “Farewell Services” in Hospitals

- If the deceased passed away in a hospital, the relatives may consider to engage a licensed undertaker to arrange farewell service in the hospital. In general, farewell services in the hospital are available only to patients who passed away in that hospital.

- Most hospitals have farewell rooms (or similar rooms) for the relatives to hold simple memorial rites. Afterwards, the body will be transported directly to a crematorium or cemetery for cremation or burial.

- Hospitals which provide farewell room (and their telephone numbers for enquiries) are listed below:
  - Hong Kong Island East:
    - Pamela Youde Nethersole Eastern Hospital (2595 6224)
    - Ruttonjee and Tang Shiu Kin Hospitals (2291 1030)
  - Hong Kong Island West:
    - Grantham Hospital (2518 2201)
    - Queen Mary Hospital (2255 3678)

Disposal of Cremated Ashes

A. Ways to Dispose of Cremated Ashes

- As cremated ashes are processed at a high temperature, they will not pose any threat to public health. There are different ways to dispose of cremated ashes. The common options are as follows:
  1. scattering in the designated waters, please refer to Page 14 for details;
  2. scattering in a garden of remembrance managed by the government or a private cemetery, please refer to Page 17 for details;
  3. depositing at a columbarium managed by the government, please refer to Page 20 for details;
  4. placing additionally in an urn grave of a public cemetery, please refer to Page 23 for details;
  5. depositing at a private columbarium;
  6. keeping the ashes at home (not more than 10 ashes); and
  7. using the temporary storage service for cremains of the Food and Environmental Hygiene Department.

Scattering cremated ashes in the designated waters or gardens of remembrance is an environmentally friendly and meaningful practice which is consistent with the concepts of “life regeneration” and “returning to nature”.

B. Scattering Cremated Ashes at Sea

- Scattering of cremated ashes at sea has gained popularity in recent years. Relatives can arrange their own vessels or use the free ferry service provided by Food and Environmental Hygiene Department for scattering the ashes in designated areas.

- Scattering of cremated ashes at sea can take place in the following 3 designated areas in Hong Kong waters:
  - East of Tap Mun;
  - East of Tung Lung Chau; or
  - South of West Lamma Channel.

- Cremated ashes of the deceased for which permission for scattering is obtained and a small amount of fresh flower petals can be scattered at sea.
(i) Free ferry service provided by Food and Environmental Hygiene Department:
- The ferry service is provided several times per month for scattering cremated ashes in designated waters by members of the public. The sails are scheduled for once every Saturday morning (except public holiday). Details of the service are available at the webpage of Food and Environmental Hygiene Department:
- A funeral director is on board to assist the public in holding simple memorial rites.

(ii) Application procedures:
- Applicants for scattering cremated ashes at sea using either self-arranged vessels or the free ferry service provided by Food and Environmental Hygiene Department must be holders of the “Permit to Take Away Cremated Ashes” [FEHB 153].
- For arranging own vessel trip, please complete the form:
  - “Application for Scattering of Cremated Human Ashes in Hong Kong Waters” [FEHB 198].
- For using the free ferry service provided by Food and Environmental Hygiene Department, please complete the form:
  - “Application for Scattering of Cremated Human Ashes in Hong Kong Waters and Free Ferry Service to Designated Area” [FEHB 198A].
- At least 10 days before the intended date of ashes scattering, the applicant or the person authorised in writing is to submit:
  - a completed “Application for Scattering of Cremated Human Ashes in Hong Kong Waters” [FEHB 198]; or
  - a completed “Application for Scattering of Cremated Human Ashes in Hong Kong Waters and Free Ferry Service to Designated Area” [FEHB 198A]; and
  - the original “Permit to Take Away Cremated Ashes” [FEHB 153], in person to either of the following Cemeteries and Crematoria Office:
    1J Wong Nai Chung Road, Happy Valley, Hong Kong
    Tel No.: 2570 4318       Fax No.: 2591 1879
    Upper Ground Floor, 6 Cheong Hang Road, Hung Hom, Kowloon
    Tel No.: 2365 5321       Fax No.: 2176 4963
The completed application form may also be sent to any one of the above Cemeteries and Crematoria Offices by fax or by post or to fill in the e-form and submit the application online. Upon receipt of the form, Food and Environmental Hygiene Department will contact the applicant to arrange for submission of the original "Permit to Take Away Cremated Ashes" [FEHB 153].

Food and Environmental Hygiene Department will normally grant approval for scattering cremated ashes at sea within 5 working days after receiving the application.

C. Scattering Cremated Ashes at Gardens of Remembrance of Food and Environmental Hygiene Department

E. Niches in Government Columbaria

- Food and Environmental Hygiene Department will normally grant approval for scattering cremated ashes in gardens of remembrance within 5 working days after receiving the application.
- If the deceased met one of the following criteria, the cremated ashes can be deposited at a columbarium managed by Food and Environmental Hygiene Department:
  - a Hong Kong resident at the time of death and whose remains were cremated in a government crematorium within 3 months after death; or
  - a Hong Kong resident for at least 10 years in the last 20 years before death and whose remains were cremated outside Hong Kong; or
  - a deceased person whose remains were lawfully exhumed and cremated at a government crematorium.
(i) Application for New Niches in Allocation Exercises

Under the current practice, when the construction of a new columbarium is completed, Food and Environmental Hygiene Department will announce the arrangements for allocation of niches in newspapers and on its website. The niches are allocated in an open, fair and just manner. Applicants’ priorities for selecting niches are determined by Food and Environmental Hygiene Department according to computer balloting. Applicants are to complete the relevant application form in accordance with the announced arrangements.

(ii) Application for Re-allocation of Reused Niches

In addition, Food and Environmental Hygiene Department also offers vacated niches at columbaria for re-allocation to members of the public on the waiting list according to priority. Waiting times depend on the number of reused niches available. Applicants should make reference to the waiting time for reused niches before making applications, which is uploaded on the webpage: http://www.fehd.gov.hk/english/cc/usedniches_waitingtime_.pdf. Applicants for re-allocation of reused niches are to complete the “Application for a Niche” [FEHB 136].

(iii) Application for Placing Additional Cinerary Urns in Allocated Niches

Applications for placing additional cinerary urns in allocated niches can be made at any time. Applicants only need to complete the “Application for Placing Additional Urn(s)” [FEHB 136A]. For good use of government resources, Food and Environmental Hygiene Department encourages the public to make optimum use of existing public niches.

Two types of niches are available at the public columbaria i.e.:

- Standard niche (can hold the ashes of more than two deceased persons); and
- Large niche (can hold the ashes of more than four deceased persons).

Food and Environmental Hygiene Department has since January 2014 removed the cap on the number of sets of cremated ashes that may be placed in a public niche. Subject to application and approval obtained, the cremated ashes of the deceased person can be placed in a public niche if the subsequent deceased was in close relationship with or a close relative of the first deceased.

Application procedures

To apply for new niches in allocation exercises, re-allocation of reused niches or placing additional cinerary urns in allocated niches, applicants are to complete the respective application forms mentioned above and bring along the following documents to a Cemeteries and Crematoria Office of Food and Environmental Hygiene Department (see Appendix I(c)) for processing:

- the original and a copy of the deceased’s identity card;
- the original and a copy of the “Permit to Take Away Cremated Ashes” [FEHB 153]; and
- for application to deposit the cremated ashes of more than one deceased in the same niche, the documentary proof of the relationship of the first deceased and the other deceased (if valid proof is not available, the applicant shall take an oath at a Cemeteries and Crematoria Office of Food and Environmental Hygiene Department).

For application for depositing the ashes in a columbarium niche in the Islands District, the applicant should also produce the following:

- the original and a copy of the documents issued by the relevant rural committee certifying that the deceased was an indigenous villager of the Islands District or a bona fide local resident or their minor children; and
- the original and a copy of the statutory declaration made by the legal personal representative or next of kin of the deceased or the duly authorised agent of such legal personal representative or next of kin to declare that the deceased was an indigenous villager of the Islands District or a bona fide local resident or their minor children.

Applicant may also fill in the e-form and submit the application online. Upon receipt of the form, Food and Environmental Hygiene Department will contact the applicant to arrange for submission of relevant documents.

A fee is payable for using a niche or placing additional urns in an allocated niche. Separately, an administration fee is payable for mounting a commemorative plaque (see Appendix II).

Masons registered with Food and Environmental Hygiene Department are allowed to provide services to supply and mount commemorative plaques in the columbaria. The list of registered contractors is available at the webpage of Food and Environmental Hygiene Department: http://www.fehd.gov.hk/english/cc/lrm.pdf. Please contact the masons direct for the charges required.
F. Placing Additional Cinerary Urns in Urn Graves of Government Cemeteries

- Additional cinerary urns can be placed in urn graves at public cemeteries. Apart from the remains of the first deceased, an urn grave can accommodate up to two additional urns or cinerary urns. The deceased whose cremated ashes will be added must be in close relationship with or a close relative of the first deceased.

The public may create a memorial webpage at the Internet Memorial Service website (http://www.memorial.gov.hk) and upload texts, photos and videos to preserve fond memories of their lost loved ones.

Family members and friends may create a memorial webpage for a deceased, who met any one of the following conditions:

Relatives and friends of the deceased can choose the layout design, write the deceased's life story, upload photos and videos, and set up various features for the memorial webpage. The webpage can be set as either ‘public’ or ‘private’.

The computer system of Food and Environmental Hygiene Department will verify the information of the deceased who was buried or kept in a Hong Kong private cemetery or private columbarium. By simply entering the name of the deceased, the public can search, browse and leave messages in uploaded memorial webpages that are set as open to the public.

The Internet Memorial Service launched the mobile version (m.memorial.gov.hk) and three demonstration videos on 25 September 2011. The public may browse the mobile version of the memorial webpages and pay tribute there. Owners of memorial webpages may use the mobile version to manage their webpages.

The Board of Management of the Chinese Permanent Cemeteries (BMCPC) has launched the “Silent Teacher” and “Great Body Teacher” Ashes Scattering Plan with the Faculty of Medicine of the Chinese University of Hong Kong and the Li Ka Shing Faculty of Medicine of the University of Hong Kong respectively. Body donors or their family members can choose to scatter the ashes of the donors at the Junk Bay Garden of Remembrance of BMCPC. Dedicated memorial walls are erected at the Garden of Remembrance in recognition of the selfless contribution of body donors.

For more information about the Ashes Scattering Plan, please visit the website http://www.bmcpc.org.hk or call BMCPC at 3719 7785.

Endless Love - Healing Act
Ashes scattering and memorial plaque for cadaveric organ donor

The Board of Management of the Chinese Permanent Cemeteries (BMCPC) in conjunction with Hong Kong Kidney Foundation (HKKF) has set up the “Endless Love – Healing Act” program, effective from July 2017. The purpose is to honor cadaveric organ donors, as their organs allow patients with end-stage organ failure a "new life".

BMCPC has set up a memorial wall in the Garden of Remembrance at Junk Bay Chinese Permanent Cemetery for the family to scatter the ashes. HKKF will honor the donor with a plaque for the family to mount on the memorial wall.

FEHD has no authorised funeral agents or undertakers. Reports and complaints can be made to the Department should there be such claims made by anyone.
Appendix V:
An Overview of Coffins

Eco-coffins:
The use of eco-coffins can reduce tree felling and reduce emissions of pollutants during cremation. As in the case of traditional coffins, eco-coffins of different styles and prices are available for selection. Made of recycled paper, these coffins can carry a load of 150 kg or more. The designs are solemn and decent.

European style
The coffin is in diamond or olivary shape with a flat cover on the top and decoration handles on both sides.

American style
The coffin is in rectangular shape with a flat cover on the top and decoration handles on both sides. The design is simple but it gives a sense of solemnity.

Japanese style
The coffin is in rectangular shape with a half opening cover. It is usually in a dark colour with decoration handles on both sides, giving a sense of simplicity and solemnity.

Chinese style
The surface of the coffin has natural wood patterns. It adopts a strong traditional Chinese style in appearance.
Western Coffins:
They are usually made of teak wood, oak wood or synthetic wood, but there are also bronze-made coffins. Coffins made of synthetic wood are more suitable for cremation, whereas teak, oak and bronze coffins are mostly for burial.

Chinese Coffins:
They are usually made of Phoebe zhennan wood, zelkova wood, China fir wood and synthetic wood. Their prices may vary greatly according to the wood type.

- The prices of the coffins which are made of different materials range from a few thousand dollars to tens of thousands of dollars (or even more). Undertakers in general will offer a package price to provide one-stop supporting services and the price will include the costs of coffin and renting service hall. It is advisable for the public to pay attention to the various charges during selection for comparison.

Other Points to Note
- The Government maintains strict control over cremator emissions to avoid causing air pollution. Unsuitable coffins and/or the funeral objects put inside the coffin can affect the operation of cremators, which may result in air pollution.
- When selecting coffins, members of the public are urged not to choose those with dimensions larger than 710 mm (28 in) in height / 760 mm (30 in) in width / 1 980 mm (78 in) in length. The external surface of the coffin should not have any metal ornaments or plastic (e.g. Polyvinyl Chloride, i.e. PVC) attachments.
- It is advisable not to put metal or plastic objects, or expensive funeral objects into the coffin.
- Metal or plastic ornaments fixed to the external surface of the coffin must be removed and disposed of before arrival at the crematorium.
