

Introduction on the handcraft:

Food and Environmental Hygiene Department provides 97 public markets and cooked food markets/centres where some 14 000 stalls offer a wide choice of commodities ranging from fresh produce, cooked food, clothing to household items. There are also service trade stalls provided in individual public markets. With a wide variety of goods available, markets are convenient places for the public to buy their cooking ingredients and daily necessities.

This handcraft is modelled on a stall showcasing the features of market – Seafood Stall, and combines such elements as a shop sign with red characters on a white background, red plastic bags, white tiles, red round lampshades, a traditional weighing scale, a round wood chopping board, fresh seafood and price signs. Let' s cut, glue and fold to make this paper model Seafood Stall.

Suitable for: people aged 6 or above

Tools: scissors, glue, etc.

Time required: 2 to 3 hours (varies from person to person)
